Part I Reading Comprehension (本大题共 15 小题，每小题 2 分，共 30 分)

Directions: There are 3 passages in this section. Each passage is followed by some questions or unfinished statements. For each of them there are four choices marked A, B, C and D. You should decide on the best choice and blacken the *corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet.Passage One

Fish and chips has always been a favourite dish in Britain, but as the oceans have been overfished, fish has become more and more expensive. So it comes as a surprise to learn that giant fish are terrifying the divers on North Sea oil rigs. Oil rigs have to be repaired frequently and divers, who often have to work in darkness a hundred feet under water, have been frightened out of their wits by giant fish bumping into them as they work. Now they have had special cages made to protect them from these monsters. The fish are not sharks or killer whales, but favourite eating varieties like cod and skate which grow to unnatural sizes, sometimes as much as twelve feet in length. Three factors have caused these fish to grow so large: the warm water round the hot oil pipes under the sea; the plentiful supply of food thrown overboard by the crews on the rigs; the total absence of fishing boats around the oil rigs. As a result, the fish just eat and eat and grow and grow in the lovely warm water. Who eats who?

1. Why has fish become more and more expensive?

- A. Because the fish has been all over oceans.
- B. Because people have caught so much fish.
- C. Because fish has always been a favourite dish in Britain.
- D. Because giant fish are terrifying the divers.

2. What does the phrase out of their wits (Line 5) mean?

- A. Out of their senses
- B. Out of their reach
- C. Out of their sight
- D. Out of their hair

3. How do divers protect themselves from the giant fish?

- A. With special cages.
- B. By repairing the oil rigs.
- C. With fishing boats.
- D. With plenty of food.

4. Which of the following is NOT the factor caused fish to grow large?

- A. The warm water round the hot oil pipes under the sea.
- B. The plentiful supply of food thrown overboard by the crews on the rigs.
- C. The total absence of fishing boats around the oil rigs.
- D. The divers who work in darkness.

5. It can be inferred from the passage that _____.

- A. Fish and chips has always been a favourite dish in Britain
- B. One day people may be eaten by the fish
- C. The giant fish are terrifying the divers
- D. Fish has become more and more expensive

Passage Two

The United States Department of Agriculture requires that a grade mark be used when labeling eggs. It is printed on the carton or on a tape used to seal the carton. It shows both the grade and the size of the eggs. Sometimes the size is not printed in the grade mark but it is printed on the carton.

There are three grades of eggs. The top grade is U.S. Grade AA, or Fresh Fancy Quality. The next is U.S. Grade A. Grade B is the lowest grade. Some stores sell all three grades, and there may be quite a difference in price between the grades. The top two grades, AA and A, are best for frying and boiling. They don't spread out very much in the pan, and the yolk is not easily broken. Grade B eggs are just as good to eat. But the whites are thinner. Also, the yolk may be flatter than in eggs of the higher grades. In most states, egg marked with a grade and size must meet certain state laws. Many states' grade standards are the same as those of the U. S government.

Eggs come in different sizes. But the size has nothing to do with the quality. The two decisions you must make when buying eggs are to choose the grade and the size. Eggs range in size from Jumbo to Pee Wee, and they are measured by their weight. A dozen Jumbo eggs must weigh a minimum of 30 ounces. A dozen Pee Wee eggs only needs to weigh 15 ounces. Smaller eggs sell for less than bigger eggs because you buy them by weight just as you do other foods.

A buyer should watch for bargains in these smaller sized eggs in late summer and fall when they're plentiful. If a person makes it a habit to check the price difference between sizes, then it will be easy to spot the bargains when they're available. Comparison shopping will get you the most eggs for the least money!

6. Which Federal Department requires grade marks on eggs?

- A. Commerce
- B. Industry
- C. Interior
- D. Agriculture

7. Grade marks indicate _____.

- A. size and quality
- B. color and texture
- C. price and shape
- D. weight and size

8. When eggs are labeled Pee Wee, we know that _____.

- A. these eggs are very firm
- B. these eggs would be smaller than Jumbo
- C. the price for these eggs should be high
- D. everyone couldn't buy these eggs

9. U.S. Grade A eggs _____.

- A. have firm yolks
- B. are often smaller than other grades
- C. have flatter yolks
- D. have thinner shells

10. We can conclude that _____.

- A. supermarkets offer the lowest egg prices
- B. size does not necessarily indicate quality
- C. there is little difference among the three grades

D. Grade B eggs are not as delicious as Grade A eggs

Passage Three

Public libraries throughout the state will be offering programs to encourage children and families to read during the summer.

Studies show that children (and adults) lose some of the knowledge they gained if they do not read during the summer. Those who do read are better prepared to start school in the new term.

The Milwaukee Public Library is offering reading programs for children of all ages. The programs are a fun, easy way to keep children reading throughout the summer. Signing up starts on June 1 at the Milwaukee Public Libraries in all cities.

Children aged 6 to 12 are invited to join the summer Reading Public Club at the library. When children have read 10 books or 1,000 pages, they will win a bag full of prizes.

Children aged 5 and under can join the Read-to-me Club. When parents, brothers and sisters read 20 books to children at home, the child can come to the library to receive a rubber ducky. Each library is also offering a series of weekly story times for children aged 3 to 5 this summer.

Teenagers between the ages of 13 and 18 have their own reading program called "Joust Read".

For every book a teenager reads, his/her name gets entered into a weekly drawing. The more books they read, the more chances of winning they will have. Teenagers who read 10 or more books have a chance to win a grand prize.

Reading with your children and sharing the love of books is a good way to be with your children and to help family members improve their reading skills. Check with your local public library for summer programs in your area.

11. Adults and children lose some of the knowledge they gained if _____.

- A. they write during the summer
- B. they stop reading during the summer
- C. buy books from the bookshops during the summer
- D. they go to the libraries during the summer

12. The Milwaukee Public Library is offering reading programs for _____.

- A. adults of all ages
- B. children of all ages
- C. elderly people
- D. young people

13. A four-year-old child can receive a rubber ducky if his/her parents, brothers and sisters read _____ books to him/her.

- A. 80
- B. 1000
- C. 20
- D. 500

14. The purpose of public libraries offering reading programs in the summer is _____.

- A. to ask children to buy more books
- B. to ask children to read together
- C. to teach children how to go to the library

D. to help children review their knowledge they learned and get more new knowledge

15. What is the best title for this passage?
