一、请朗读以下短文中的斜体字部分的内容 (20 分)

Sam waited patiently in the long line at the grocery store. He had come to pick up a few items for his mother. He often did chores for his parents after school. He enjoyed helping out at home. As he waited, he daydreamed about the new camera he wanted to buy. He wanted to buy it soon because his family was going on a vacation, and he wanted to take pictures of their trip. There was only one problem. He needed seven more dollars to buy the camera. His lawn-mowing job at the Smith's should provide the money shortly.

Suddenly Sam was roughly shoved aside. He recognized Mrs Sanders, an unkind and unfriendly person who lived on his block. She had shoved in front of him without even smiling. Just as Mrs Sanders received her change and her purchases, a ten-dollar bill flew out of her hand and fell at Sam's feet. Mrs Sanders, however, was too busy criticizing the cashier for his slowness to notice. As Sam bent to pick up the money, he thought quickly. The money did belong to Mrs Sanders, but she deserved to lose it after the way she had behaved, and, with it, he could buy the camera.
